TERMINATION PAY DEFINITION

Termination pay includes any form of severance pay which could include:

- Vacation Pay
- Sick Leave
- An amount provided under an early termination incentive plan, or other payments contingent on a TRS member terminating employment, being paid upon termination and retirement.

Upon retirement, TRS members can include termination pay in the calculation of their Average Final Compensation (AFC) and pay an additional employee contribution to TRS to fund an increase in their monthly retirement benefits.

RETIREMENT TERMINATION PAY FORM

Upon termination and retirement, TRS members eligible for termination pay must fill out a 'Retirement Termination Pay' form.

The 'Retirement Termination Pay' form is found in each retiring member's 'Retirement Application Packet.'

The retiring member is instructed to complete the 'Member Information' section of the form and forward the form to you, the employer.

The form must be retained in your office until the retiring TRS member has been fully terminated, all wages have been paid, and the termination pay amount has been determined and is ready to be processed. As the reporting agent, it is your responsibility to submit the properly completed form to TRS.

After the retiring member has been terminated, please return the 'Retirement Termination Pay' form and the 'Retirement Termination Pay Calculator' screen shot to TRS at least one week prior to submitting your monthly contribution report which contains the employee and employer termination pay contributions due to TRS. This will give TRS the processing time necessary to minimize interruptions when validating and submitting your monthly contribution report.

The employee and employer contribution due on termination pay must be remitted to TRS by the 15th of the month following the member's date of termination.

RETIREMENT TERMINATION PAY FORM WITH SIGNED ELECTION FORM

If the retiring member elected termination pay Option 1 or Option 2, the gross amount of the termination pay will be subject to Social Security withholding.

However, Federal and Montana state income taxes will not be withheld from the 'Employee Contribution Due' being deducted from the termination pay.

The retiring member may not change the termination pay option election if a valid 'Termination Pay – Irrevocable Election Form' has been executed.

If the 'Employee Contribution Due' to TRS is greater than the net amount, after Social Security is deducted, the retiring member must remit a personal check, payable to TRS, for the 'Out-of-Pocket Expense' amount.

As the employer, you must provide a copy of the completed 'Retirement Termination Pay' form and the 'Retirement Termination Pay Calculator' screen shot to the member, highlighting the out-of-pocket expense amount. Advise the retiring member that they must remit the 'Employee Contribution Due' to TRS by personal check.

Populate the employee tax-deferred contribution in the (Term Pay Contrib) column, the termination pay option elected in the (Opt) column, and the employer contribution due in the (Employer Term Pay) column on the Contribution Detail screen.

RETIREMENT TERMINATION PAY FORM WITHOUT SIGNED ELECTION FORM

If the retiring member has not signed a 'Termination Pay – Irrevocable Form' and elected termination pay Option 1 or 2, the 'Employee Contribution Due' on termination pay will not be tax-deferred.

The net amount of the termination pay is made payable directly to the retiring member. Federal, Montana state, and Social Security taxes will be withheld from the gross amount of termination pay.

As the employer, you must provide the retiring member a copy of the completed Retirement Termination Pay form, highlighting the out of pocket expense amount. The retiring member is to be advised they must remit the 'Employee Contribution Due' to TRS by personal check.

The 'Employer Contribution Due' must be included on the monthly report under the 'Employer Term Pay' column of the Contribution Detail screen. This information will be presented on the 'Contribution Summary' page in the 'Employer Term Pay' field.
